Drytex is a new-age waterproof, breathable fabric, manufactured in Ireland. It is lightweight and comfortable to wear, especially in warm weather where condensation can sometimes be unpleasant under waterproof garments. Our Drytex dairy jackets and pants are the ideal wear for milkers and dairy staff. No need to change for milking. The same waterproof, windproof gear you go for the cows in, is just as pleasant and fresh to wear in the dairy. The dairy jacket features full closure at front, and elastic sleeve cuffs (ideal for milking). The Velcro-fasten stand-up collar gives added security from flying manure or whatever. Bib-pocket. The dairy pants have elastic waist and side openings for pocket access plus domes to secure closure over boots, if required.

'Drytex' is a new-age waterproof, breathable fabric manufactured in Ireland. It is lightweight and comfortable to wear at all times. In the summer the breathability eliminates condensation inside the garment, and in winter it is wind and water proof for retention of body warmth. The gown features back fastening with waist tie, long sleeves with elasticised cuffs. Handy chest pocket for notebook or smokes, etc. This is the best garment yet for cowshed milking comfort.

Milking Gown Lightweight Premium

Our Lightweight Premium gowns feature some benefits over our standard lightweight gowns. These have a soft inside-neck material, more comfortable to wear for long periods. There are three large flap-covered, self draining pockets for easy access to items needed during milking. Closure is by a tie string, as well as Velcro. This gives a more comfortable 'waisted' feel to the gown. All-in-all, a better gown, well worth the small extra cost.

The standard milking garb in New Zealand and Australia has been the ubiquitous plastic apron. Utilitarian, but not made for comfort or best protection. New fabric developments now allow protective clothing to be water-resistant, at the same time as allowing air circulation. Our lightweight milking gowns are made of this material, giving all-over protection, but still comfortable even in warm weather. Velcro fastened at back. Full length sleeves. Boot length.

Milking Apron Lightweight
